Chris is an experienced Senior Executive and a sought-after Trusted Advisor, backed by forty-five remarkable years in information systems and organizational change:

- Principled in transformative leadership built upon vision, wisdom, integrity, and value.
- Established in information systems, services, projects, and portfolios,
- Drives strategic business operations, analytics, metrics, and advisories.
- Proponent of Strategy, Quality, Efficiency, Innovation and Change.
- Focused on strategic operational excellence, organizational agility, and financial performance.
- A deep voice of reason and compassion with a passion for leaving a legacy value.

Senior Executive

As a Senior Executive. Chris offers a proven track record in strategic planning, operational efficiency, and exceptional financial management. It is not essential for an Executive to be an expert, nor certified, in each. However, it is essential that an Executive be attentive to each to achieve exceptional results. My effectiveness is in the senior executive leadership needed to achieve sustainable solutions by blending strategy, quality, efficiency, Innovation, and change.

Trusted Advisor

Tenacious and empathetic thought leadership has resulted in a positive, enduring, legacy of extraordinarily rich and diverse roles and relationships while earning their trust and confidence as their trusted advisor of choice. As a Trusted Advisor, Chris cultivates critical and strategic thinking supporting essential coordination and decisions leading to strong innovation that emerge from extensive networking, collaboration, and negotiations.

Value Offered

With a lifelong passion for legacies of value, I am a quick study with a wide array of highly transferable and strategically integrated skill sets connecting strong sustainable outcomes of strategic operational excellence, organizational agility, and financial performance. My experience has brought order to chaos through a dedication to transformative cross-functional leadership and team building, talent management, mentoring, and sustainable change, for both short-term performance and long-term success, with robust profitability including a solid return on investment (ROI). My approach to bringing order to chaos begins with significant influence through quality corporate and industry relationships, continuing with strategic insights, structured methodologies, comprehensive work plans, personal accountability and dedication to continuous professional development.

Next Challenge

I am seeking to join an organization facing complex problems in need of strong senior executive leadership to achieve sustainable solutions by blending strategy, quality, efficiency, Innovation, and change.

I am principally located in the greater Atlanta Georgia area, open to on-site, remote, and/or hybrid availability with limited national travel.

My gross annual salary target is between $150,000 and $170,000 or $75 to $85 per hour, on W2 or 1099. no C2C or B2B.

If any situations or opportunities arise where my skills, abilities and background would be of benefit, or, if you have suggestions as to others with whom I might speak, I would appreciate hearing from you.
